State Route Adoption Objective and Description

Objective

Adoption of a wide corridor from which a specific alignment will be chosen to construct a new state highway.

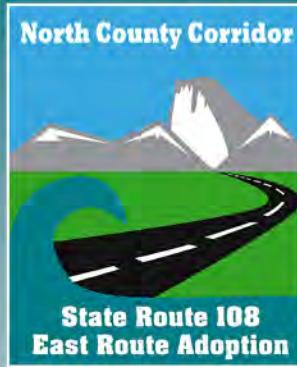

This high-capacity, west-east freeway/expressway would be designed to

- Meet future traffic projections
- Improve safety
- Accommodate multi-modal travel
- Provide interregional transportation and regional connectivity
- Accommodate planned economic growth
- Reduce projected vehicle emissions

Description

The proposed corridor would extend from State Route 108/McHenry Avenue to a location on State Route 120 approximately six miles east of the City of Oakdale, and be approximately 18 miles long. The corridor could be an entirely new roadway or a combination of new roadway and existing roadway.

State Route Adoption Process and Schedule

Process

The Route Adoption process is the first step toward building any new state highway. These steps are necessary before a new state route may be adopted:

- Prepare a Program Environmental Impact Report (in process)
  - The report will evaluate alternatives and recommend a location for the route adoption.
- California Transportation Commission Action (2010)
  - The Commission approves the Route Adoption.

Schedule

- Feasibility Study (Completed January 2008)
- Preliminary Design Report (Completed 2008)
- Two Public Scoping Meetings (November 2008)
- Public Comment Period for the Scoping Phase (Current)
- North County Corridor Route Adoption Environmental Impact Report (2009)
- California Transportation Commission Adoption of North County Corridor as a State Route (April 2010)
- Legislative Action to Designate Adopted Route as “Interregional” (Ongoing)
