Bike To Work Day

Oakland – Tomorrow, May 8, will mark the twentieth anniversary of Bike To Work Day. Caltrans encourages all citizens to take part if possible, and to experience first-hand the joys and advantages of commuting via bicycle. Several events will take place at numerous locations around the Bay Area. Among them:

- 5:30–9:30 a.m. — Bike to Work Day Super Energizer Station at Golden Gate Bridge Vista Point
- 7 a.m. — Bike to Work Day Pancake Breakfast at Oakland City Hall
- 8:30 a.m. — Bike to Work Day Press Conference at San Francisco City Hall
- 5:30–9:30 a.m. — Morning Bike to Work Day Energizer Stations
- 4–7 p.m. — Evening Bike to Work Day Energizer Stations
- 5–8:30 p.m. — Bike East Bay’s Bike Happy Hour, Old Oakland
- 6–8 p.m. — Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition’s Bike Away from Work Bash, San José City Hall Rotunda

A complete calendar of events is available at youcanbikethere.com/calendar.

Caltrans works closely with our local partners to encourage bicycling, and to find ways to make it safer and more convenient to all. We also try to lead by example. This week, Caltrans engineer Rachel Donovan was named “Bicycle Commuter of the Year” for Alameda County. She is one of many avid and dedicated bicyclists who work for Caltrans.
