

For over 85 years contractors have turned to AGC to help improve their bottom line. If you're looking for access to new markets, programs to help improve your productivity, or the political clout necessary to protect your interests, then you should take a look at what AGC has to offer. Membership in AGC brings you the industry's best and most complete array of services ... all designed to provide a profitable return on your investment.

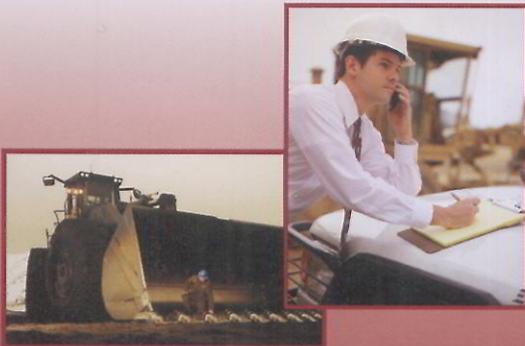

Here are ten reasons why contractors count on AGC as their business partner.

1 Competitive Edge

AGC has the tools to help you work smarter and more productively. From first class education and training and timely management updates to its regulatory and legislative efforts and extensive array of publications, AGC is always working to generate a meaningful return on your investment.

2 Business Services and Benefits

Membership in AGC brings you access to the industry's leading services, communications and a full range of special discounts and benefits. Can you afford not to belong?

3 Networking

As a member, you have access to AGC's greatest resource...other members. Take advantage of the opportunity to meet with and learn from contractors from across the state.

4 Industry Advancement & Training

AGC established the AGC Education Foundation to promote workforce development among school age students. AGC also provides training for the existing workforce, helping employees stay current on cutting edge issues facing the workplace.

5 A Voice

Its presence and effectiveness at the Capitol and in the many public agencies of government have made AGC the voice of the construction industry, by professionally and effectively representing the unique interests and concerns of construction contractors.

6 Leadership

Members of AGC are leaders in the industry. AGC members promote ethics at all business levels of operations and in working with public agencies. As a member, you support the priorities of AGC and the industry, which promotes fair and honorable dealings with construction owners and all segments of the industry.

7 Commitment

AGC is committed to improving our physical environment and adheres to the principles of skill, integrity and responsibility. AGC works to develop good relations between members and their employees to provide safe working conditions, promote safe work practices, and help to stimulate new construction markets.

8 Future Direction

From setting institutional policy and industry practices to influencing public policy, and the laws that govern the industry, AGC has a significant impact on construction's future.

9 Cost Effectiveness

Why reinvent the wheel when your firm needs guidance on industry-wide concerns? Nobody understands construction better than AGC's expert team of industry professionals. With over 1,000 members state-wide and 33,000 members nationally, AGC is constantly developing new programs and services to address the needs of contractors, both large and small.

10 National Recognition

Its dynamic marketing and public relations efforts deliver the AGC message of quality and ability to thousands of construction owners and users around the world. AGC is known and respected as the industry's leader by owners and users at the national, state and local level.
