Description of Operation:

Thanh Le came in to work this morning but left early, so Gina Rizzardo will have the diary for the days operations at T1. In short, There are a couple workers installing bolts for the Tower D driving frame. This should be the last day for bolt installation here, until they come through to tighten them completely.

The Western Gull continues to inhabit the nest on the Southwest corner of the T1 footing and the eggs are still intact.

Damon Brown did not come into work today and Thanh Le had to go home early.

OVERTIME: Arriving early and documenting the days operations and conversations meant accruing 2 hours of overtime.
